FOREWORD

As these years have passed through the halls of D.H.S., we, the students, have witnessed many activities, much work, and much happiness and laughter. We have watched the functions of this year and have found pride in our school's vigor, stature, and character.

The school itself is well reflected in its students' eyes. The years of work, play, and friendship can be seen by the many eyes in its halls. Eyes appear filled with frustration for want of achievement. Pride-filled eyes appear upon gaining this achievement. A pang of pity comes when eyes of sorrow and sadness pass. Of course, there are jovial, teasing eyes striving to radiate friendliness. These eyes, plus many more, combine into a school full of life.

In years to come there will be eyes filled with tears of sweet sorrow as the old Messenger is taken from its hiding place to revive memories of the friends, work, and play of the days at D.H.S.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Unlike the month of March which proverbially comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb, the 1963 Senior Class has roared like a lion from start to finish and perhaps will roar a bit afterwards. By no means have we roared like a boastful lion but like a wise and supreme one.

We immediately took the lead in the school by running away with all the honors in the Budget Drive. On the heels of our financial victory we pooled our imaginative minds to create the most colorful and most fascinating Fall Festival ever given. In paying our respects to the faltering Wilmington Wildeat we mourned with Jeff Chandler at our torchlit funeral. Meanwhile, the football team led by senior co-captains Dave Witten and Wallace Newton dealt the final blows to the rainsoaked 'eats. At half-time from a court of our five loveliest senior girls, Nancy Jones stepped forward to be crowned queen of the festivities.

With a group of determined seniors who gladly accepted their responsibilities of leadership, the Student Council this year accomplished more and better things in proving to be one of the best councils of the past years.

Perhaps our biggest roar, however, was our masterful production of the musical Brigadoon. With a core of talented singers and actors, the determination of the large choruses and committees, and the devoted help of the faculty directors, we produced the most exciting and enjoyable senior play ever witnessed at Durham High. For many years to come this performance will be remembered.

Looking in retrospect at our class, one would certainly have to label us as the most successful class to pass through Durham High in many a year. In every endeavor we have taken full advantage of our great talents and great minds, coordinated them with our dogged determination and have succeeded every time in making a top-notch showing. Our work has never been marred by unfavorable actions.

In the future we will carry with us the good name we have made for ourselves here at Durham High. Don't be surprised to hear some roaring in these coming years. It might be a lion; but more than likely it will be signifying the success of the members of our class—the class of '63.

CLASS OF 1964

President .....Gery Sandling
Vice-President ..... Bill Griffin
Secretary ..... Donna Gill
Treasurer ..... Bill Taylor

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

Another year, another class of SOPHIOMORES! Thank goodness it isn't us!

As the Junior Class of '62-'63, we have the distinction of being led by the shortest Junior Class president in D.H.S. history—Gery Sandling! From the School Fund Drive to the Junior-Senior Prom, he has helped us be "TOPS." But, behind every successful president, there are helpers. In Gery's case they are the other class officers, Bill Griffin, Vice-President; Donna Gill, Secretary; and Bill Taylor, Treasurer.

Six Junior co-eds donned the "old red and white" to cheer our boys to victory. As the football season approached the class motto became "Put-I-lease buy a tag!" Through these tags we bolstered the school spirit and the class pocketbook. Naturally, the Juniors came out ahead in the contests sponsored by Homecoming!

We all felt a tinge of pride when our homecoming representative, Jetta Purell, was presented.

"Get those wheels rolling!" came the cry when the Junior Class presented Showboat. Hard work and worry preceded our night of glory. With Captain Sandling and First Mate Hull, we really made a "SPLASH" in the river of D.H.S. activities! Not to mention, the bolster in the class treasury.

Then came the hour of excitement! The Junior-Senior was about to begin! Girls in frilly dresses and boys in their shining best arrived for "their Prom." Soft lights and music made the atmosphere worth the time and effort spent planning it. Of course, with a peevish expression, we consoled the poor, uninvited SOPHS!

Now our year is over. As we look into the future year at D.H.S., we can only hope it will be half as wonderful as this one.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

At last!! We may now rest at ease from all the "SSSSophomore!" and turn back the pages of this wonderful first year for a look at some events that made us feel a part of D.H.S.

Orientation Week when we "Sophs" were cheerfully guided to the nearest "elevator" by our upperclassmen; the election of class officers—Conway Harris, president, John Lewis, vice-president, Teresa King, secretary, and Libby Politano, treasurer; the fun in decorating our homerooms for the Fall Festival; the first ball games; the excitement of Homecoming; our pride in our Sophomore ball teams who made thrilling displays of teamwork this year; the Soph participation in the Junior Talent Show and other school activities; the key chain sale; the Soph Soek Hop; and even the sarcastic remarks of "Hey, Soph, who are you gonna date to the Junior-Senior???"

Now the pages of this wonderful first year of high school may be closed, but not forgotten for the memories linger on as we look forward with anticipation to our next two years at D.H.S.

Hi!

That was one of the first words I learned over here, and with this "hi's" and deeds I received.

I remember how helpless I was the first time in this huge, tremendous school, among all the new and lively students, who wiped my "being lost" away. I remember my introduction to the student body; I was nervous and almost scared, but everybody clapped, and I felt so happy. There are many other things which will stay in my memory: being a member of the Student Council, helping solve the problems of D.H.S., being a kind of shaky representative in the Homecoming Court, going to football and basketball games and to the Christmas dance, collecting money in my homeroom, and even ordinary things like sweating over test and exams. And, oh boy, the Charlotte-Asheville trip was really something; what a team D.H.S. has! I'll support it even when I am back home.

These are only a few of the things I'll never forget. There are little things too, which might not seem important to you, like the noisy, but happy sound of the cafeteria, the traffic and the friendly faces in the halls, and last but not least, the helpful open-minded teachers.

I know everybody in this school, students as well as teachers, has played a big part in fulfilling my dream: getting a better understanding of another country.

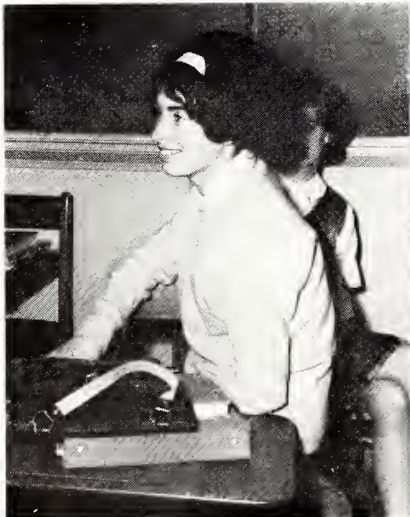

Even if I would become a millionaire, I could never pay anybody back for this year.

I tell each and every one with all my sincerity thank you, which seems so small compared with what I have received—one of wonderful and most important years in my life.

I hope I will hear from you, and if you ever get a chance to come to Germany, please come to see us! OK?

Your American Field Service
Exchange Student,

The HI-ROCKET's second year under Miss Marion Warren was marked by many changes and improvements. An extra issue was published the first week of school to help acquaint the sophomores and new students with Durham High. Increased art work and better photography sparked the lively new make-up of the fall issues. Christmas rolled around and already money problems were popping up. Increased advertising and an efficient business staff helped the HI-ROCKET pull through.

January brought competition from the LO-ROCKET, published by the journalism class. A birthday party for the editor broke the monotony in February. The March issue was crammed in between preparations for the trip to New York for the C.S.P.A. convention. April saw the Quill and Scroll banquet and the announcement of the staff for next year. Also in April, the seniors on the staff made their annual pilgrimage to Lexington, Virginia for the Southern Interscholastic Press Association meet at Washington and Lee University.

Hard work, screaming editors, forgotten deadlines, and substitute teachers helped to liven up this year for the HI-ROCKET staff. Miss Warren had her troubles, as she was hit by a stray case of Asian flu while recuperating from a broken ankle. Memories are all that now remain of the fun and work this year, but next year's staff can look forward to another good year.

“Best one yet!” that’s what our student council said about itself. And everyone agrees. For the betterment of D.H.S., the new officers, Joe Poe, Jim Brame, Lynn Hamilton, and Vicki Joyner, attended the North Carolina State Student Council Workshop. Our own Joe Poe was elected as president of his workshop council. Then Jim Brame, vice-president of North Carolina Student Council Congress, attended the National Student Council Conference in California, accompanied by Mrs. Martha Patrick, school advisor.

Taking her place as an honorary member of the student council is our new exchange student from Germany, Birgit Neumann. Through her outstanding personality, Birgit has bettered our international relations program.

Our treasurer Vicki Joyner was very proud as it was announced that she had conducted the most successful D.H.S. Budget Drive ever. At the same time we congratulate Jim Brame and Lynn Hamilton for the always handy student directories.

All committees of the Student Council did an outstanding job this year. To their credit are many new activities that include more sock-hops, and outside dates at school dances.

But even as the trees lose their leaves and then bud again, so Durham High elects young Juniors as she releases her Senior officers. Dressed in graduation garb we pass on our duties to the new Council.

We could talk about our busy year, which it was, of course . . . But only after we finally got the roll made up . . . in the middle of February? . . . Just in time to get involved in the play madness . . . That "other man" . . . the one "who came to dinner" . . . financed by Playmakers because everybody paid their dues to Bobby!!! Who didn't give them to Marsh? Who couldn't pay Messenger!!! Which couldn't take our picture . . . Why? . . . Welda would break the camera . . . What else ??? Remember the wild party at the end of the year? . . . which we couldn't have because Bill wouldn't donate his farm for total destruction by "Cherished Possession Tricky" . . . and the rest of the crew!!! But can you blame him???

That sure was an exciting program on rockets. Yea, and what great pictures—at least that rocket left a trail of smoke . . . Mr. Toan limited himself to fifteen minutes talks this year—sort of . . . Maybe someone from D.H.S. will win the General Electric Scholarship . . . Remember Dr. Overman's talk on viruses? . . . ## WIND ENSEMBLE

Durham High's Marching Bulldogs, under the direction of Joseph D. Secrest, have completed another successful season. Beginning a week before school started, the D.H.S. Band attended a band camp to perfect the precision drilling for which they are so famous. With the opening of school, practice had to be confined to the early morning hours before school. Practice, practice and more practice was the by-word of these cold, sleepy, musicians! Then, the parade before each home game, the half time shows, the homecoming show, the Junior Talent Show, and finally the Duke-Carolina Freshman game where the D.H.S. Band played for the Duke team.

The end of football season brought an end to marching, but not early morning rehearsals. Members of the Wind Ensemble playing in the Senior play "Brigadoon" began practicing in March at 7:30 every morning.

But it wasn't all work. There was the Christmas party, the bus trips, the "pep" bands, and countless other small events which made the 1962-63 school year in band a memorable one.

200 points for a D.H.S. letter and 400 for a state letter? Not bad! If you could leave out those hikes and bicycle trips . . . Bet you can't make a basket with one of those oversized doughnuts you call rings . . . Who said a roving player was fun? It's more like trying the 600 yard walk-run! Want to limbo under the high jump, Chubby? . . . Candy for sale!! Only 50¢ a bar and all the calories you want free! . . . Remember the field day at High Point in April? As if you could forget it! . . . Not do what on the bus, Miss Leitner? Traveling to W.C. at Greensboro in May, the girls met strong sports competition, but missing a day of school was thoroughly enjoyed, you can be sure . . . You forgot what? Oh! Well, who needs a bus driver? . . . All in all a fun and active year with girls tops in sportsmanship, who ate their Cheerios every morning and the lucky morning classes, which had dessert at breakfast!
